

EXHIBIT A

Hoskins - Anderson Conversation
(As Transcribed by Defense)

PART A

SH: You know, uhm, when Barry was taking those shots? Dr. Ting said that one of--one of the basketball players, he was taking those shots, and he was putting it in his thigh, and his--oh shit, it's fucking--

GA: Oh, I know. You can't even, you can't even walk after that.

SH: Yeah, no. He said he had to go and graft his--

GA: Oh yeah. You know what happens? He got, uhm--

SH: He must have put it in the wrong place.

GA: No, what happens is they--they put too much in one area. And what it does, it will--it will actually ball up and puddle. What happens is, it actually will eat away and leave an indentation, and it's a cyst. It makes a big fucking cyst, and you have to drain it. Oh, yeah, it's gnarly. Hi Benito. Oh, it's gnarly.

SH: He said this shit went--that's why he had to--he had to switch it off of one cheek to the other. Is that why Barry didn't just shoot it in his butt all the time?

GA: Oh no, I never--I never just go there. I move it all over the place.

SH: Oh see, this dude, he just--Doc said he just shot it all the same time, all the time.

GA: Oh no, just--yeah, I uh--

SH: And they had to do this whole--

GA: Yeah. No, no, no.

SH: He said his shit was--his shit was--

GA: You would be amazed at how many body builders have to have that done because body builders do like [inaudible] 20 cc's of shit. And it's just ugly. And uh-- [inaudible] and it gets infected. And, I mean, it gets infected and they have to drain--I've had a guy that had two gallons of shit drained out of his ass. It was so gross, you can't even believe it.

SH: Yeah, Ting told me that he had to do the whole leg. And he kept doing it, I guess, wherever, here in his thigh.

GA: Yeah.

SH: And then basketball players who got shorts on. So you're--

GA: And they--and they--I mean, that's what--people don't know what the fuck they're doing. That's the problem. No it's, it's fucking--I've seen all kinds of ugly shit. It's just unbelievable.

SH: Yeah, that's why he was like--he was, like, tell Greg if he's putting it in one fucking place, to tell him to move that shit somewhere else.

GA: Oh no, no, no. I learned that when I first started doing that shit sixteen years ago. Because, uh, guys would get some gnarly infections and it was gross. I mean, to the point where you have to have surgery just to get that fucking thing taken out.

...<sup>1</sup>

PART B

SH: What if they decide that, you know--I think--aren't they--didn't they say they're going to test--they don't know. They're not testing the players yet, they're just doing random shit. So they're--so they're just going to get a percentage. And then after they figure out the percentage, then if it's high enough, then they'll do whatever.

GA: Well what, what I understand is what they're doing is, they're uhm, they're--they did

---

<sup>1</sup> Statements contained in a short portion of the recording between the last statement above and the first statement in section B, below, were not included in the transcript proffered by the government and recited in the Court's order, and so are not included here.

twenty-five players random, supposedly, during spring training. Okay?

SH: Oh, so you don't even--

GA: And then--so those guys have already been tested twice. They got tested and a week later got tested again, same guys. So what happens is, is those guys are pretty much done for the year. They don't ever have to get tested again.

SH: Okay.

GA: Now supposedly there's gonna be three guys, excuse me not three, 150 guys tested random during the season. Which he's going to be on that list, easy.

SH: During the season--oh yeah, definitely.

GA: So and then after--but they're going to test him once and then test him again. And then after, he's supposed to be--

SH: But do we know?

GA: Do we know when they're going to be doing it?

SH: Yeah. Does he know?

GA: Oh I, I have an idea. See I've got a--where--where the lab that does my stuff, is this lab that does the entire baseball--

SH: Oh okay. Oh, the same.

GA: Yeah. So they--I'll know. I'll know, like, probably a week in advance or two weeks in advance before they're going to do it. But it's going to be in either the end of May, beginning of June. It's right before the All-Star break definitely. So after the All-Star break we're like fucking clear [inaudible].

SH: Okay, so what you want so they'll--[inaudible] baseball will tell--you'll know when they're going to do it, but you won't know exactly if it's going to be him.

GA: Right.

SH: Or will you know--

GA: He may not even get tested.

SH: Right, that's what I'm saying.

GA: Because it's supposed to be computerized.

SH: But we don't know if he is. He's riding my ass, you understand.

PART C

GA: He's gonna be, but the whole thing is, everything I've been doing at this point, it's all undetectable.

SH: Right, right.

GA: See, the stuff I have, we created it. You can't--you can't buy it anywhere else. You can't get it anywhere else. But you can take it the day of, pee--

SH: Uh huh.

GA: And it comes up with nothing.

SH: Isn't that the same shit that Marion Jones and them were using?

GA: Yeah, same stuff. Same stuff that worked at the Olympics.

SH: Right, right.

GA: And they test them every fucking week.

SH: Every week, right, right.

GA: So and that's why I know it works. So that's why I'm not even trippin'. So that's cool. So that's cool.

...<sup>2</sup>

END PART C

---

<sup>2</sup> Statements contained in the portion of the recording following this statement were not included in the transcript proffered by the government and recited in the Court's order, and so are not included here.